Average value of Grifine tile is applicable for Super Premium quality tiles

* Length and Width
- a) Admissible deviation in % of the average dimension of a single tile (2 or 4 sides) from the manufacturing dimension
- b) Admissible deviation in % of the average dimension of a single tile (2 or 4 sides) from the average dimension of 10 samples (20 or 40 sides)

 Flatness
Admissible deviation of the maximum single value in % from the manufacturing dimension
- a) Centre of warpage compared with the diagonal
- b) Edge warpage compared with edge length
- c) Warping compared with the diagonal

 Surface Quality
Percentage of tiles in the test lot that must be free from defects

I. SURFACE

The Surface on which the tiles are to be laid should be clean and free from dirt and dust particles to avoid contamination

Before laying floor tiles on old mosaic and cement floors, the floor should be chipped with a chisel of sharp tool so that the surface is sufficiently rough to grasp the mortar.

II. MORTAR

The mortar mixture should be in the ratio of 1:3 cement to sand by volume

Recommended thickness of mortar bed for a new floor is 1" to 1 1/2" and for an old existing mosaic or cement floor 1/2" is sufficient. The mix should be used within two hours of the addition of water and any mortar (mixture) not used should be discarded and not retempered.

III. TILE LAYING

Tiles should be completely immersed in clean water for about 45 minutes before using and should be laid as soon as the surface water has dried.
Completely dried or partly dried tiles should not be used. Wetting is recommended on dry floors. Soaking of tiles or wetting of floors is not required in case of laying with chemical adhesive.

Before fixing, tiles should be coated with a thin layer of cement slurry or tile fixing adhesive sufficient to cover grooves to have better grip and strength and also to avoid air pockets.

Tiles should be gently tapped after laying to ensure total mortar contact.

Tiling should preferably be started from the center area so that cut tiles. If any, come only on the sides.

Arrange tiles in the desired layout before fixing ensuring that there are equal cut tiles at either end.

Slope on the surface on which tiles are fixed, wherever required, should be given for water drainage at the time of preparing the mortar bed.

IV. GRAFTING

Leave a grout joint of about 3-4 mm between two tiles. The gaps between tiles should be filled with white cement or white cement mixed with the chemical grout adhesives available in the market.

After filling the joints, floor surface should be cleaned with sponge or a piece of cloth and filler should be allowed to set for 24 hours by avoiding all traffic there on.
