Hi Kiranbhai,
A. We would like to do Servant's room w/ toilet.
B. Store and Puja can be dropped but of the two, store is better to retain.

Area wise we are already as large as we'd like to be: on the base of 1107, we could probably push it up by another 25 sft.

Thanks

Dear ABHISHEK,
I agree that Option 2 works better.

A few questions -
- do you want a Servant room & a servant toilet.
- if we add a servant room & a larger master toilet can we increase the area - by how much
- is the store room necessary

Regards,
Kiran

Dear Abhishek,

Based on our concall yesterday kindly find attached two alternative for the plans for the project.

Option 1

a. Cross ventilated living dining, bedroom and master bedroom.

b. Kitchen towards the existing CASA buildings.

c. Puja niche off the corridor.

Option 2

a. Cross ventilated living dining, bedroom and master bedroom.

b. Kitchen opens to the outer side.

c. Puja niche off the living dining room.

The area calculations and the unit areas are on the attached sheets.

Kindly review.
